Backspins Tees Off a New Era of Entertainment and Community Engagement in Sedro-Woolley

Sedro-Woolley, Washington - 4/17/24 - Backspins, a brand new indoor golf destination and full service restaurant, is set to revolutionize entertainment and leisure in the heart of Sedro-Woolley. With its grand opening slated for later this year, Backspins will introduce a one-of-a-kind experience, blending cutting-edge technology, community commitment, and a passion for golf.

At the core of Backspins' offerings are Full Swing Golf's top-tier simulators, favored by icons like Tiger Woods and Jon Rahm. These state-of-the-art simulators offer the best technology available and a full spectrum of engaging games. Backspins guests will be able to play full rounds of golf, practice, as well as play soccer, football, baseball, and other sports.

Led by local golf and hospitality professional Josh Williams, and longtime Skagit Valley restaurateur Billy Elms, Backspins is proud to be a home-grown organization that values community involvement, recreation, and a dedication to economic development. Upon opening, Backspins will serve as a beacon of affordable, high-quality entertainment for communities craving diverse recreational options.

"Our partnership with Full Swing Golf ensures a premium experience for patrons, setting us apart as the first indoor golf facility in the area while providing a fun and safe social atmosphere for all of our patrons." according to Josh Williams, who has spent over 20 years leading golf operations at a variety of courses and studios in King, Skagit and Whatcom Counties.

In the restaurant, Backspins will be serving a full menu of your favorite pub fare, with beer on tap and signature cocktails available at the bar. Chef Billy Elms has spent his career cooking mouthwatering meals at the popular Ferry Street Bar and Grill, the Old Mill Restaurant, and others. Said Elms, "I've always loved to cook and to have another opportunity to bring people together over a delicious meal is an incredible opportunity to be a part of." The menu aims to provide distinctive flavors and great value. No matter your age or occasion, Backspins is sure to become a local favorite for a great meal.

Membership, group packages, and hourly rates are available to ensure everyone can afford to check out the newest exciting addition to the Sedro-Woolley community.
