John Daly

Whether you're sinking birdies or mastering your swing. This is an Arnold Palmer with a twist. A refreshing combination of lemonade, iced tea, and vodka.

Backspins Bloody Mary

Popular at the 19th hole and quintessentially savory. Vodka, tomato juice, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco sauce, horseradish, a pinch of celery salt, and a pinch of black pepper. Garnished with celery stalk, lime wedge, and olives.

West Woolley Whiskey Sour

Few cocktails can stand the test of time as well as the classic whiskey sour, especially on the links. Its three-ingredient simplicity—whiskey, lemon, and sugar—perfectly balances sweet and sour notes, keeping it as a mainstay in golf club cocktail culture.
